We are delighted to share with you our programme of concerts and celebration of communities through the nineteenth Shipley Arts Festival.

Festival Friends, our String Academy, Toovey's, Kreston Reeves, NFU Mutual, Nyetimber, Rossana and Wakefields together with over twenty Sussex communities come together to be elevated through music from the roots of Sussex. In 2019, we move forward as one of the leading cultural events in the South East of England: the frontiers of new music will be extended with the music and singing of Roderick Williams OBE with Stradivarius Piano Trio at Knepp Castle's Wilding Concert. The Yehudi Menuhin School, String Academy and five local Sussex schools will premiere 'Dragons' by Malcolm Singer at St Mary's Church Horsham, in the heart of the District, to close our 2019 Festival.

High points sustain the entire Festival with world class, international musicians performing in many of the concerts. Our community of musicians includes the world's leading baroque trumpeter Crispian Steele Perkins, flautist Bruce Martin, pianist Maria Marchant, cellist Jonathan Few, horn player Richard Wainwright, Rupert Gough, Director of The Chapel Choir of Royal Holloway, my wonderful shared leader Andy Laing, our composers plus the emerging Shipley Arts Festival Choir to perform at Shipley Church on May 5th.

During the year we will be recording our back catalogue of commissions and also establishing our management infrastructure as part of the delivery and legacy from the Horsham District Year of Culture 2019. We are grateful for our already successful collaboration with Horsham District Council as well as West Sussex County Council.

The Stradivarius Piano Trio has become well established and during 2018 toured internationally to extend the Festival's reach. The Stradivarius Piano Trio is at the forefront of the formation of the Hong Kong and emerging Chinese Chapters which is supported by our partner Nicholin Choi. An exchange programme of leading professional musicians and students has also been created. In 2019 this will include three tours of Hong Kong and China plus the second Summer School for young British and Asian musicians to come together at the Yehudi Menuhin School to perform.

Our outstanding String Academy programme has changed so many lives since its formation and now sees former members in leading roles including: manager of the English Chamber Orchestra, London Philharmonic and Glyndebourne; two junior professors at Junior Trinity and a senior staff member at Chethams'; other musicians have also established their wider careers with the help of String Academy. This ground breaking project brings together pupils of Grade three standard to diploma from independent and state schools. We would be very grateful if you could help to identify and attract talented young pupils from all backgrounds to join the Academy. The String Academy meets three times per term and is coached by professional musicians of national standing who are passionate about education and social transformation. We have scholarships available so that the opportunity is open to all. String Academy takes part in our residential Summer School at The Yehudi Menuhin School. This brings together students from the Trinity Sannyi Music Academy Exchange programme, which is now in its second year, and is founded around the principles of the late Lord Menuhin with whom we share so much in our ambitions. By spreading the word to String teachers, players and pianists, you will be able to help change lives with us by recommending young musicians to join our programme. As well as performing in London and in this Festival, students will also perform in St Giles Cathedral on The Royal Mile in the Edinburgh Festival.

Charities that we are supporting in 2019 include Chestnut Tree Hospice which cares for children and young adults and Sussex Arts Academy which provides easier access to the Arts for the benefit of all children including some of the most disadvantaged young people in our county.

I am very grateful to all our Patrons including The Lord Lieutenant Susan Pyper who will be in attendance at this year's opening Festival Concert at Leonardslee Gardens on March 29th and to Lord Francis Maude of Horsham and Shipley and his wife Christina who have been constant sources of inspiration, together with our founders Peter and Jane Sanderson, Gordon and Joan Lindsay and Ginny de Zoete.

With warmest regards, and thank you for being a part of bringing together our communities.

Yours,

Andrew Bernardi,
Artistic Director and Founder
Shipley Arts Festival

TOOVEY'S

I remain a passionate advocate for community and the arts in Sussex, values which Andrew Bernardi and I share. I am proud that Toovey's sponsors and supports Andrew Bernardi's work and his Shipley Arts Festival.

Like the Shipley Arts Festival, Toovey's is a regional enterprise with a national reputation. Rooted in Sussex, we serve clients across London and the South East. We remain a family firm employing a team of specialists, with a long established reputation for international marketing and expertise for both the valuation and sale of art and antiques at auction.

On behalf of everyone at Toovey's, I wish Andrew continued success for the 2019 concert season.

Midsummer Concert at The Blue Idol

Set in the picturesque Blue Idol Quaker Meeting House, this concert sees a return of music by many of the international artists and musicians who have been part of the Shipley Arts Festival community for more than nineteen years. The Bernardi Music Group play Descending Blue by Cecilia McDowall; Olivier Messiaen's violin and cello movements from The Quartet for End of Time; John Rutter's Suite Antique; and Michael Berkeley's Sonata.

It has been said by the Quakers that, "Music is eternal. Music sustains us whether we are listening to others, or making our own music together. Music has the power to change our sense of the world and ourselves. It connects us with one another and to something greater than ourselves. This evening will be a celebration of music to sustain and delight you."

We very much look forward to welcoming you to this special midsummer evening and for you to see how music can be transformational and life changing.

WAKEFIELDS

FAMILY JEWELLERS SINCE 1911

"We are very proud to be a sponsor of the Shipley Arts Festival. Our Dad, Graham Wakefield, was a great supporter of our local community and had a passion for classical music. As a tribute to his love of music and his friendship with Andrew, we are delighted to be involved in this highly regarded Music Festival celebrating both old and new music, in an exciting programme with both international and home grown musicians. We know many young musicians will feature and be inspired by the Festival, helping create the talented musicians of tomorrow."

Melanie & Dominic Wakefield

Wakefields is a 4th Generation Family Jewellers, established in 1911. We have an on-site workshop, and specialise in bespoke jewellery pieces, many created from family heirlooms.

We are proud to partner with our watch brands including Rolex, Bremont, Tudor and Longines. We also advise on pre-owned watches and jewellery. Wakefields specialise in all jewellery repairs, from the simplest solder all the way up to remounting, and restoration. Watch servicing is a busy department for us alongside our highly regarded valuation service. This means we can advise and help you with any jewellery or watch issues!

The Wilding Concert

Inspired by Knepp Castle's 'Wildland Project', The Stradivarius Piano Trio and Roderick Williams OBE play a programme of music that is deeply rooted in Sussex, at one of the great English country estates.

The Knepp Castle Estate has transformed its natural environment over recent years with its 'Wildland Project' leading to the return of many rare species of butterflies and birds. The evening's Wilding Concert programme has been chosen to reflect this great achievement.

The Stradivarius Piano Trio and the Roderick Williams OBE Knepp Piano Trio perform: Milhaud's violin/piano movement Boeuf sur le Toit (The Ox on the Roof), a surrealist ballet, originally intended as the score for a Charlie Chaplin silent film; Piazzola's Four Seasons of Buenos Aires, a tango take on Vivaldi's original; Ralph Vaughan Williams' The Turtle Dove; Schubert's Der Jäger from Die Schöne Müllerin; and the romantic British popular song A Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square.

Opera Holloway at Sullington
Tithe Barn

Opera Holloway return to Shipley Arts Festival with Puccini's La Boheme, a thrilling and passionate portrayal of a Parisian love story as depicted by one of Opera's true legends. Puccini's moving score deals with the real life hardships of a group of impoverished artists.

Conducted by Lewis Gaston and directed by Fiona Williams, we follow the unfolding love story of Mimi and Rudolfo from its joyous beginnings to the bitter end.

The performance features returning artists Samuel Oram, Callie Gaston and Lorena Paz who have all received wonderful reviews performing with Opera Holloway in the past few years.

Puccini wrote La Boheme in 1896 when Sullington Barn would have been in agricultural use having originated from mediaeval times. In 2013 the barn and its magnificent 17th century roof were restored with financial assistance and historical advice from Natural England and the venue is sure to delight audiences as they enjoy the moving performance.

The Stradivarius Piano Trio returns for a third year to Eartham House, the home of Great Ballard School, to give a recital in the intimate 18th Century Drawing Room.

The performance will include Piazzolla's Four Seasons, Mendelssohn's Trio in D minor, and other popular tunes.

You will be assured of a warm welcome to this house in the South Downs National Park that has one of the most extraordinary histories, with its previous residents of artists, poets, MPs, and High Sheriffs, including William Huskisson, who was unfortunately better remembered for being run over by Stephenson's Rocket than for his speeches in Parliament.

During the afternoon before the concert, the trio will also perform for the pupils at Great Ballard School – a firm favourite in the school calendar!

Dragon Event

Children from five Horsham District schools, Windlesham House, Great Ballard School, The Yehudi Menuhin School string orchestra and the String Academy breathe fiery life into a dragon-themed concert.

This is one of two Horsham District Year of Culture closing events, presented by Horsham Festival and Shipley Arts Festival.

Dragons presents a massed choir of children from Horsham and local District schools, including The Weald, Millais, Windlesham House, William Penn and Great Ballard, performing alongside a string orchestra from The Yehudi Menuhin School and the String Academy.

Together, they breathe fiery life into a dragon-themed concert, which sets the poems of Nick Toczec to music composed and conducted by Malcolm Singer. Songs include The Dragon Who Ate Our School, Speaking Dragonese, and The Child Who Pretended To Be A Dragon. Don't forget to wear your fireproof clothing!
